

Managing The MCI

Hosted by: Lancaster EMS

Presented by

At Lancaster County Public Safety Training Center
100 Champ Boulevard Manheim, PA

September 7-8, 2013 8:30AM - 4:00PM

The program

To register Email: training@taskforce1.net

Only $190 per student!

No area is immune to having a mass casualty incident. Whether it's a school bus full of kids that slides off a roadway or a shooting at a school, the successful management of the incident will rely on an Incident Command Team that must organize available resources to build the operation. Over two days, our instructors will take you through the process, sharing their insights and experiences.

Following an interactive lecture and review of case studies, students will participate in several individual and group simulation exercises under the tutelage of our instructors. To cap off the program, you will be immersed into a "real" MCI.....an experience you will never forget....

The Instructors

Sarah Radinsky, EMS Supervisor, LT., / QA Officer, Prince Georges County (MD) Fire-EMS

(ret.) Sarah started her fire service career as a volunteer in northeastern PA prior to volunteering with the Hyattsville Volunteer Fire Department during college. After obtaining her degree in Emergency Medical Services-Paramedic, Sarah was hired as a Paramedic in 2004 by the Prince George's County Fire/EMS Department (PGFD). Assigned to some of the busiest ALS units in the county, Sarah trained new ALS providers from within the department, as well as students from colleges such as University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC). Sarah gained experience as a field provider thanks to high call volume and her participation in a variety of mass-casualty and high-profile incidents; one of which earned her the Bronze Medal of Valor. Her experience expanded when her role changed from a field medic to an EMS Supervisor (Lieutenant) and Quality Assurance Officer.

Daniel B.C. Gardiner, Fire Chief, Fairfield (CT) Fire Department (ret.)

Daniel B.C. Gardiner retired as the Chief of Department of Fairfield (CT) Fire-Rescue, serving in all ranks within the department for over 30 years. Fairfield is a combination department of 91-career and 40-volunteer members with five stations covering 32-square miles and protecting a population of 60,000 residents. He is a past President of the Fire Department Safety Officers Association as well as a past President of the International Society of Fire Service Instructors. For over 20-years he served on the NFPA committee on Professional Qualifications for Fire Officers (NFPA 1021). He currently serves on two NFPA technical committees: Standard for Providing Fire and Emergency Services to the Public (NFPA 1201), and Recommended Practice in Fire and Emergency Services Organization Risk Management (NFPA 1250).

Chief Gardiner is a Nationally Certified Fire Officer II and Fire Instructor II. He is a member of the Certified Fire Protection Specialist Board of Directors. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Fire Science Technology and has two Master's Degrees, one in Fire Science and one in Public Administration; all from the University of New Haven, Ct.. Chief Gardiner has taught firefighting combat classes throughout the United States, Canada, Nassau Bahamas, and Curacao, NA. He was the Colorado Fire Fighters Academy Instructor of the year in 2008.
